In the world of medical imaging, the single most expensive expenditure is imaging equipment. It is also the single highest revenue producer for your department or practice.

Professional Radiology Solutions (PRS) recognizes this situation and wants to help you make the right financial, technical, uptime and life cycle decisions when it comes to imaging equipment.

Same Quality—Better Price

Purchasing the right imaging equipment requires a balance of quality, service and price. PRS provides high quality with outstanding service—often saving clients tens of thousands of dollars on each purchase.

PRS offers a complete portfolio of refurbished and refinished imaging equipment, including MRI's (high field-1.5T to extremity units), CT's (multi-slice to single slice), R/F (digital and analog)/rad, ultrasound, nuclear medicine and bone densitometry. Every modality PRS sells is fully supported by the refurbisher/refinisher, as well as through local service organizations that provide warranty, demand service, equipment applications and support of service contracts.

Each of these modalities is available to you with no more than a one-generation-removed status from the current OEM production model. In many instances the current production model can also be offered to you.

Consulting and Marketing Services

The key to the purchase of any product is the product's quality and warranty. Any vendor can sell imaging equipment. However, it is the company that will back the sale with a warranty that you can truly depend on for a high-quality, low-risk solution. All PRS imaging systems come with a standard one-year warranty to ensure that our clients receive the same level of quality and service as if they purchased the equipment new. And like OEMs, service contracts are available once the warranty has expired.

PRS and its network of quality suppliers (many ISO 9000 certified) stand ready to bring state-of-the-art medical imaging equipment to your facility. PRS understands that image quality and product uptime are essential. We are committed to delivering state-of-the-art imaging solutions at a price that will save your facility tens of thousands of dollars off the OEM price.
